Information for Immediate Release

The Baby Hoochie is smaller in size than the Hoochie Mama but is just as good at producing those authentic sliding notes that are so characteristic of cow elk. As a result of hearing and observing how effective this herd talk was, we built the Baby Hoochie so that we could sound like a young elk and a mature cow simultaneously calling back and forth to each other. When used in combination with the Hoochie Mama you can create that herd talk that even the hardest to call bulls will find impossible to resist.
